

POLLARD HAS LEAD IN OFFICIAL COUNT

Shows 2,000 Majority in Seventy-Five Counties and the Cities.

WORK HELD UP FOR TIME

Incomplete Returns From Missing Precincts Still Needed to Complete Work.

Official returns for seventy-five counties and seventeen cities, as counted yesterday by Secretary J. N. Breneman of the State Democratic Committee, give John Garland Pollard a total of 26,426 votes and Attorney-General Samuel W. Williams 24,342, a majority of 2,084 more than three-quarters of the State.

Unofficial returns from the remaining twenty-five counties and one city, with forty-seven precincts missing, as printed to the method of procedure, give John Garland Pollard a total of 4,957 and Judge Williams a total of 4,957, a majority of 1,444 for Judge Williams in the unofficial and incomplete returns from the remaining counties and the one city, Fredericksburg.

On the face of these partially official and partially unofficial returns, Mr. Pollard has a total of 31,383 and Judge Williams a total of 29,299, giving the Honorable candidate for Attorney-General a lead of 2,084 votes.

Today Secretary Breneman will confer with Acting Chairman Nichols in regard to the method of procedure with the incomplete returns from twenty-five counties and the city of Fredericksburg. In his office Mr. Breneman has incomplete and uncounted returns from the following counties: Highland, King, William, Loudoun, Mecklenburg, Patrick, Prince George, Prince William, Alleghany, Amherst, Bath, Botetourt, Carroll, Charles City, Chester, Dinwiddie, Fairfax, Fauquier, Floyd, Westmoreland, Shenandoah, Richmond, Rockingham, Sussex, Tazewell and Washington.

By sorting and tabulating the returns made by the precinct judges throughout the State, Secretary Breneman has discovered that no returns have been made from forty-seven precincts, divided among the counties enumerated above. Until the returns from all the precincts in a county are received, Mr. Breneman will not make a total of the county's vote. It is possible that he and his assistants may tabulate the incomplete returns already received from these twenty-five counties to-day without waiting for the missing precinct returns.

Mr. Breneman and his corps of counters stuck at their posts all day, and by doing yeoman's work, managed to tabulate and count the votes of seventy-five counties and seventeen cities. These figures were printed at the head of this column.

While no one is in a position to forecast the result of the official count, it is estimated on the basis of the returns already tabulated that John Garland Pollard will be elected.

His sister, Miss Elizabeth Halldane, and Kenneth Burr-Mackenzie, clerk of the court, will be present at the reception committee of the American Bar Association, which included Francis Rawle, of Philadelphia, chairman; Jacob M. Dickinson, former Secretary of War; Judge Alton B. Parker, Francis Lynde Stetson and C. A. Severance. They escorted the chancellor on a sightseeing tour of the city.

After the first session of the American Bar Association, the chancellor will be introduced by Chief Justice White, of the United States Supreme Court. He will then read his address on "The Higher Nationality." Later, the honorary degree will be conferred on him, Chief Justice White, Premier Borden, Senator Root, ex-President Taft, Maitre Labori, the eminent French lawyer, and Frank P. Kellogg, president of the American Bar Association.

permitted Alaska to retain the income tax collected in that territory.

Another outburst of Democratic "turbulence" came to-day, when Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, denounced the methods of the party caucus that framed the tariff bill. He declared the binding rule of the caucus had "made a farce of debates" in the Senate. Senator Hitchcock introduced an amendment which the caucus had rejected, for a penalty tax on trusts. It was defeated 41 to 50.

The Democratic members of the Finance Committee began sessions to-day to readjust the income tax to meet the demands of insurgent Democrats who have asked for an increase in the "additional tax" on larger incomes. Other contested subjects also will be disposed of.

It is expected that a Democratic Senate caucus will be held early next week to settle all questions on the tariff bill. Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance Committee, reiterated today his belief that the measure will be passed before the end of next week.

LIND CALLED BACK TO MEXICO CITY

touch with the American side of the negotiations to-day, that Lind would not return unless Huerta resigned, and from present indications Huerta will never resign.

When this was put up to O'Shaughnessy, he was apparently optimistic, but declined to give his reasons, saying he had no news, and would not be surprised at any action now by the Mexican government.

The exodus of Americans continues, but there are many who refuse to leave while the relations of the two countries are peaceful. All who have inquired of Foreign Minister Gamboa have been informed that Mexico will continue to protect the lives and property of foreigners.

KILLING CAUSES EXODUS
Seventy-Five Americans From Mexican Towns Reach El Paso.

El Paso, Texas, August 29.—Seventy-five American men, women and children from Madera and other Chihuahua towns arrived here to-day on a special train. The exodus was caused by the killing of Edmund Hayes at Madera a few days ago, the culmination of a bitter feeling against Americans. Thirty-three Chinese were also brought to the border. The American refugees without funds will be cared for by United States Consul Thomas Edwards.

Arrangements have been made for the Chinese at the United States Immigration station in El Paso as they being made.

ATTITUDE OF FRANCE
Paris, August 29.—The attitude of the French government on the situation between the United States and Mexico, says the Matin, is inspired by the traditional friendship toward the United States and a keen desire that all American questions be arranged in agreement with the Washington government.

"French representatives of the United States and Mexico," the Matin continues, "have been instructed to aid as much as possible in bringing about an understanding between the United States and Mexico. The French government is convinced the United States has no other aim than to re-establish peace in Mexico, for which country the United States sincerely wishes prosperity and peace."

Advice Not So Foolish.
London, August 29.—The Daily Telegraph, in its financial column to-day, says that further reflection has convinced business men that President Wilson's advice to Americans to quit Mexico was not so foolish as appeared at first sight.

"It is now seen," the Daily Telegraph says, "that the closing down of American undertakings by the departure of their owners and managers would have been a disaster to the United States position. In addition to the distress and discontent of the unemployed native workmen President Huerta would be given the added responsibility of thinking American property, and any failure in this respect might form a pretext for intervention."

One Week More for Huerta.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Mexico City, August 29.—Envoys John Lind will give President Huerta one week in which to ask for a renewal of negotiations. If no suggestion to that effect is received by Lind Thursday he will walk on a Ward line for the United States.

Unless the suggestion comes directly from the government, Lind will not go back to Mexico City.

ANXIOUS TO FEEL OF ANOTHER LOBBY

Lamar Accuses Leading Railroads of Efforts to Emascuate Antitrust Bill.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, August 29.—David Lamar, the "Wall Street Wolf," who figured in the Senate lobby investigation as the impersonator of various Congressmen over the telephone, wrote to-day to Senator Overman, chairman of the lobby committee, offering to reveal the existence of a lobby supported by the leading railroad corporations of the country having for its purpose the emasculation of the Sherman antitrust act.

Lamar asks to be called before the committee, and states that his testimony will make it necessary for the committee to summon many other witnesses. "My testimony," writes Lamar, "will show that in 1909 this lobby was very active in an effort to secure the adoption and passage of the bill of the Commerce Court railroad bill in a form that would repeal the Sherman antitrust act, and furthermore, five of these railroad corporations the lawful right to compete for the two or more competing lines of railroads, and that this lobby thus supported continues in Washington, and is still engaged in an organized effort to accomplish the very same purpose which would have been frustrated had the lobby been successful in procuring in 1909 the enactment of legislation I have referred to, viz., nullification of the Sherman antitrust act, and the right to exercise a single control of competing railroad companies."

Senator Overman was shown a copy of the letter, and read it at length. "This is new to me," he said. "I have received no letter from Lamar yet, but, of course, we shall take the matter up if there is anything in it."

Other members of the Senate investigating committee were inclined to be skeptical about the Lamar communication, and stated that a thorough investigation would be made before the committee gave "the Wolf" a chance to pull off a possible stock market scheme with the passive help of the committeemen.

MUNITIONS OF WAR HALTED ON BORDER

State say that the feeling of "optimism" among the Mexican people is based upon the Thursday note of Foreign Minister Gamboa. Both deny that any official news was received last night which affected the situation, and indicated an agreement between Huerta and President Wilson.

The effect of the President's message in Mexico is evident from the fact that people are leaving on every train and every other way of exit from that republic.

Marion Letcher, the American consul at Chihuahua, reported to Secretary Bryan to-day that a train left that city for El Paso on August 28 with fifty-four American men, twenty-eight women, seventeen children, and also a small number of other foreigners. Owing to the condition of the tracks, no forecast could be made of the time of their arrival at El Paso.

This exodus began on the very night that Envoys John Lind left Mexico City. It was stated at the time that a large number of Americans had left to care to the condition of the tracks, no forecast could be made of the time of their arrival at El Paso.

It is entirely possible that the Americans who left with Mr. Lind on that night had some forecast of what President Wilson was going to say to Congress.

Long Search Ended.
After a search of ten days, Alexander Gray, colored, was arrested last night by Policemen Bertucci on a charge of being an accomplice of Ted Lester in the robbery of William Lyle. The woman was in Police Court yesterday morning, and was sent on to the grand jury.

It is alleged that Lyle asked that the woman be shown him, and that the woman took him where she lived. She and Gray, it is charged, then robbed Lyle of $15.

Six Exits Observed.
The Boston Herald, McNeven manager, was reported yesterday by Policemen Moore on three charges of alleged ordinance violation. The reporter charged that the exists in the lobby were obstructed, the fire-escapes obstructed, and the exits from the stage allowed to remain fastened.

JEROME UNABLE TO FIND MEANS OF RELEASING THAW

position of the case rested solely with high Dominion officials, and that through them only could any move be made. There was a great deal of talk about New York's representatives trying to induce Alexis Dupuis, the Coaticook justice who committed Thaw, to quash the commitment, but so far as could be learned, nothing came of it.

Thaw's lawyers having succeeded in keeping him in jail, and thus thwarting his deportation, are waiting for the other side to move. All indications suggested a long wait for Jerome until some one higher up took a hand in the case.

In the parlor of his home at Coaticook, Justice of the Peace Dupuis, frequently interrupted by Mrs. Dupuis, talked to-night of attempts made to have him quash the Thaw commitment. "I didn't think the commitment was regular when I signed it," said Dupuis. "But the sheriff who had Thaw was very anxious he should be held. They were so insistent that I followed myself to be persuaded."

"On Wednesday, I believe, some men who called themselves immigration authorities called on me. They wanted me to go right to Sherbrooke, give Thaw a hearing and turn him loose. But I couldn't do that. They had the machine waiting, but I didn't go. I had a horse I wanted to sell that afternoon. A while later one of them came back. He wanted me to sign over my rights to another magistrate. But I told him I thought I was capable of dealing with the situation myself. British fair play would suit my hands."

Mrs. Dupuis entered. She is taller than her husband.

"Let me tell you," said Mrs. Dupuis. "I'm for Thaw. I wouldn't hurt him for the world. My husband is not going to do anything hasty."

Thaw's views are not supported by banking interests, and that the pending currency bill is devised to curtail the power of groups of dominating Eastern bankers and to direct the money more equitably throughout the country.

President Wilson is optimistic that the currency legislation will be enacted at the special session of Congress through the hearty intercession given the House by the Senate.

ASKS INDICTMENT OF TAMMANY MEN

Hennessy insists that he has not fallen out with Sulzer. It is known, however, that he is disappointed of some of Sulzer's friends, and does not care to be held responsible for anything that Arnold has done.

Louis A. Sarecky, for whom the Associated Press has been working, is looking yesterday, turned up this morning. The sergeant-at-arms had departed, together with the warrant, for Sarecky. This satisfied Sarecky that he will enjoy his liberty until September 17, when the Legislature assembles.

He says he will guarantee to produce himself on that date if he is left out of jail until then.

Acting Governor Glynn to-day established his headquarters at Coaticook, his country seat, eleven miles from Albany, and will remain there over Labor Day.

J. T. It was said that he suffered a broken rib and several bruises, but that he was not dangerously injured.

E. G. Merrill, twenty-one years old, a chauffeur, surrendered to the South Richmond police soon after the accident, saying that he had run down a man. He was bailed for his appearance before Judge L. R. Franklin, of the District Court, when the case comes up for hearing.

CHARGES OF BRIBERY ENLIVEN THAW CASE

If Sufficient Evidence Can Be Secured, Arrests Will Be Asked For.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Sherbrooke, Que., August 29.—Charges of bribery and coercion enlivened the Thaw case to-day. They came from the Thaw side of the legal quarrel, and caused a decided commotion.

W. L. Shurtliff, K. C., Thaw's counsel of record, made the charges that stirred up a hornet nest in the legal camp. He asserted that attempts had been made to bribe and coerce Magistrate A. L. Dupuis, who committed Harry K. Thaw to the Sherbrooke jail after he had been arrested near Coaticook, where Dupuis holds forth.

The commitment signed by Dupuis was the means of the legal coup through which the Thaw lawyers are leaving him in jail, instead of handing him to the tender mercies of the immigration officials.

Shurtliff, in a telephone conversation with one of the newspaper men here, a personal friend of the lawyer, declared that if they could secure sufficient evidence of the bribery effort, arrests will be asked for.

This was the only exciting development of the day. Thaw sat in his jail room smoking, walking and writing his daily "interview." He was apparently happy over the tangle in which his lawyers had woven the government attorneys.

Most of the government lawyers have left here, but William Travers Jerome remains. Though unsuccessful in his efforts to get help from the Quebec Premier, a new move from Jerome is looked for as soon as he has evolved a plan from his study of Canadian statutes. Thaw lawyers declare they are unafraid of any move now, and it is possible no development will come in the case until next Tuesday.

That day will be the first of the coming judicial year. Justice Glosensky will preside, and if the Thaw lawyers decide to ask bail for their client the petition probably will be presented then, unless the attorneys do think it would be wiser to wait for some time. Unless bail is granted, Thaw will remain in jail until next October.

The prisoner was exultant to-day when he learned that Roger Thompson, the chauffeur, who helped him escape, had been admitted to bail in $50,000. The quaint little town of Sherbrooke is likely to wake up some morning and find that Roger has flown.
